

$138,961 SCHOOL IS NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Modern Building Ready in Nine Months

BEISEKER — A new six-room school estimated to cost $137,961 is expected to be completed in Beiseker within nine months. Contract has been let to Pratt Construction Co. of Calgary and the firm has begun work on the basement.

The building will be frame and stucco and will house six classrooms, library, commercial room, principal's room and rest room on the main floor. In the full size basement there will be a girls' and boys' play room, lunch and projection room, domestic science room, waiting room, clinic, two cloak rooms and two store rooms.

Lighting will be of a modern type consisting of incandescent bulbs surrounded by rings to divide the light and kill the glare. There will be modern plumbing facilities with running water.

Battleship marbolem will cover all floors and painting will be done in pastel shades.

Beiseker had its first school in 1910 when classes were held in one room of a building owned by F. A. Lount. Later a one room school was built and this building was afterward used for the United Church. In 1918 a consolidated school was formed when Odessa No. 1928 came in with Beiseker No. 2705 to build a two-room school which is the present school. It was built with two rooms and an assembly hall upstairs. In 1924 an extra room was opened upstairs and in 1926 or 1927 a partition was built and it became a four-room school. Still later a fifth room was added downstairs.

In 1939 Beiseker consolidated joined the Wheatland School Division with Fred Campbell, trustee until 1950 when he was succeeded by J. H. Schmaltz who had been a trustee on the Beiseker School Board since 1921, excepting one year when he retired. For some time the building of a new school was considered, and in 1950 the Board made provision to build certain schools with this going to a divisional vote for the borrowing of $400,000 for building purposes in the division. This was carried by a vote of 394 to 300.

Soil Conservation Begins On The Farm

By W. S. BACKMAN

Field Supervisor, Kneehill, M.D.

Soil conservation, like charity, is much more effective when it begins at home. Many farms in this district show signs of the need of soil conservation. To one, coming from the northern part of the province, where there are still sufficient trees to hold the snow and moisture in the soil, erosion is the most evident farm problem. The Agricultural Service Board, in this municipality, must put soil conservation as their first concern in their program of agricultural improvement.

A careful survey will show that every year a little bit of somebody's valuable top soil either blows away or is washed away. With it goes not only much of the natural fertility, but the value of the farm is also lowered. Eventually the standard of living will decline, where soil erosion is allowed to continue.

A farmer who practices soil conservation is not doing something for nothing. It is a simple and sound business proposition. The returns over a long period of years will convince the most skeptical operator that it pays him to keep his top soil. It is good business to protect an investment. That is what every farmer does when he takes steps to prevent soilwastage on his own farm.

It is alarming to me, when I see tons of top soil per acres being washed off the fields, as it is going this spring. It is true that people who live here, have become accustomed to it, but if they could see it for the first time as I am they would also be alarmed.

On Friday of last week, before any machinery has been on the land, the sky was full of soil which blew off the land. In many places the snow was still piled high behind windbreaks, and there is more than the average amount of moisture in the soil. I shudder to think what it will be as soon as spring work begins on the land. In one field near Sunnyslope I was able to take colored pictures showing wind and water erosion going on at the same time. The operator had planned to use a harrow on this field and wanted to know my opinion. I insisted on seeing the field before giving him any advice. He made up his own mind when I pointed out the soil drifting in that field. The harrow will not be used.

There is no official "must" about preventing soil wastage on a man's farm, but if the operator hopes to stay and make a living there, the top soil must remain there, too. Soil erosion is nothing new. Whether due to wind, water or overgrazing, it is a vital part in the rise and fall of the people who work the land. The story is here in the Drumheller district for all who want to learn the lesson. Gone are the days when a farmer could plow up, wear out and move on to greener pastures. Today the wise farmer knows that if he takes care of the soil, the soil in turn will look after him.

Farming practices can be adopted which will stop soil erosion. Tests have shown land planted to grass legumes, or other crops cultivated on the contour, loses little or no soil. A farmer's experience may teach him that some soils, and some fields, should never be left without some kind of cover; in fact he may find that in the long run it is better farm practice to put some of these soils under grass for the production of seed or livestock. It is imperative that draws, in which water washes down the slope, in some fields be seeded down to permanent grass. There are so many fields being cut up by the annual spring run-off or sudden heavy showers. Machinery will no longer go over these cuts, and there is more turning necessary in field work. This could all be prevented if these draws were seeded to grass.

The Agricultural Service Board in the Kneehill M.D. will carry out a survey during this season, to determine the need of soil conservation here. The Field Supervisor will visit many farms and discuss soil conservation with the operators. It will be an opportunity for us to get acquainted. The Board asks all farmers to co-operate in this soil conservation program. It is a pressing problem that we must solve now. History will prove the wisdom of those who farm the land today.

Esther Wurz Suffers Burns

BEISEKER — A five-year-old girl was found with her clothing ablaze after being left alone in the kitchen of her home for a few minutes.

The little girl, Esther Wurz, is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wurz who live in the Sandhills Hutterite Colony.

She was taken to Calgary General Hospital and at last report was in serious condition. It is not known how her clothes caught fire.

Senior Room Pupils Present Program

LEVEL LAND — Pupils of the senior school room presented a Junior Red Cross program in the S.D.A. Hall, April 12.

Mrs. York, the teacher, was in charge of arrangements, and John Leiske was master of ceremonies.

The variety concert included four plays. Proceeds went toward Junior Red Cross funds. The same program will be given in Beiseker, April 24, at 8 p.m. Proceeds will be divided between the Junior Red Cross and Beiseker Memorial Hall.

NEW BEISEKER six-room school, being built for Wheatland School Division at a cost of $137,961, will be one of province's most modern. School will have modern water and lighting facilities, a library, commercial room, rest room, play room, projection room, domestic science room and clinic. Architect is Alfred W. Hodges of Calgary.

RESIDENTS WANT TO JOIN CALGARY HOSPITAL DISTRICT

BEISEKER — Residents of township 28, in ranges 24, 25 and 26 will make application to have this area added to the Calgary Municipal Hospital District.

The territory lies surrounding and east of the village of Beiseker. General feeling of the meeting was that this district's interests could best be served if it was attached to the Calgary District as most of the people go to Calgary hospitals and doctors at the present time for medical attention.

A petition will be circulated among residents of the area by a committee. W. D. MacDonald and John Leiske were nominated for range 24; Carl E. Schmaltz and Art Berreth for range 25; Ed Schwartzberger and Joseph Hagel for range 26.

Airdrie Couple Farewelled Before Leaving For Veteran

AIRDRIE — A largely attended social gathering marked the esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Louis Blair are held in the Airdrie town and district. It took the form of a farewell to a couple who have given a lot of time and thought in the interests of the community.

Louis, the C.P.R. agent for the past few years was instrumental in organizing the Scouts and he himself was Scoutmaster. In all community work their efforts were tireless and their presence will be missed.

The program for the evening was impromptu and a fine spirit prevailed.

Mr. and Mrs. Blair was presented with a nice set of kitchen chairs for their new home in Veteran where Louis will resume his work as station agent.

A delightful lunch brought the evening to a close with the best wishes of all present going out to the Blairs.

DR. EVERETTE DICK of Portland, Ore., recently wrote his Canadian Medical Council examinations to practise medicine in Canada. Dr. Dick has just returned to the United States after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Dick, in the Level land district.

The Way of Peace

While Communists in Russia and in Canada cry "Peace", they obviously want only one kind of peace. That is the kind that leaves the world in the arms of Russian slavery, with the attendant evils of firing squads and Siberian exile.

The Russian government, represented in our cartoon by the Bear, may be ready to sit down at the conference table and he may not. Certainly, he could, if he wished, quickly ban the threat of war from the scene. But so far he has indicated only a desire to gobble up all the peace-loving nations, and in fact wipe out the hopes of peace.

Grace and Justice

Almost from the earliest days of Christianity the symbol of faith has been the Christ on the Cross. Some branches of the faith have this picture vividly portrayed in small and large crucifixes. But to all who hold the name of Jesus dear to their hearts, He represents the ultimate of sacrifice.

How could a righteous God be just and merciful to sinful man? Not by ignoring sin, because that would not be just. Not by meting out the penalty of a lost eternity to every sinner, because there would then be no chance of reconciliation, nor opportunity for worship, no sweet communion with the Creator.

But God, as one member of the Trinity, was just in exacting the penalty for sin and merciful in that His Son, Jesus Christ, "bore the penalty for our sins on the tree." The soul that would avail himself of both the grace and justice of Almighty God must accept the Sacrifice of Jesus Christ, second person in the Trinity, as his own, for the salvation of himself.

Then the third person, the Holy Spirit, will unite the penitent sinner to his God in the joy of day-to-day worship and fellowship. Such is the miracle of man's salvation.

Two Years In Retrospect

On Nov. 15, 1948, the Right Hon. Louis St. Laurent succeeded the Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King as prime minister of Canada.

During this short period of 28 months the new prime minister has enhanced both his own and his government's record by an imposing list of achievements.

Canada has reached adult nationhood. Newfoundland has become the tenth province, thus extending the eastern limits of our country to the farthest reaches set by the Fathers of Confederation. The Canadian Parliament now has power over the BNA act, and the Supreme Court of Canada is now the final Court of Appeal in all Canadian cases.

Our country has played an active part in the organization of the United Nations and was first to set up a special military force to back up the UN in a military way. A $5,000,000,000 defence budget in three years will strengthen us in case of attack.

Canada is now the largest trading nation in proportion to its population. At the same time thousands of new immigrants are coming here steadily to take their place with older Canadians. High levels of employment and high farm and labor incomes are the order of the day. Except for the U.S.A., we have the highest standard of living in the world.

Advances in social security with higher old-age pensions, a new $170 million National Health program, increased family allowances and completion of the biggest housing construction program of history under the National Housing Act make Canada a better place in which to live.

No wonder a recent Gallup Popular Opinion poll showed the majority of Canadians strongly in favor of the prime minister and his party. Support of the Liberal party by the people of Canada is undiminished.

A Lesson In Socialism

By T. W. PUE

Some time ago I decried the system of keeping school students ignorant of their marks in school. I pointed out this was a mark of the trend towards the socialist state so that no man or woman can rise above his fellows. Every student's mentality is to be kept in rigid check regardless of the natural desire of boys and girls and men and women to excel in some section of studies or sport.

Apparently, down in Yonkers, New York, the teachers are old-fashioned and actually and boldly tell their students what marks they make in their examinations. Not only that, but one teacher has the courage to use this system to teach the fallacy of communism!

T. W. PUE

Here is what he says: As a teacher in the public schools, I find that the socialist-communist idea of taking "from each according to his ability," and giving "to each according to his need" is now generally accepted without question by most pupils. In an effort to explain the fallacy in this theory, I sometimes try this approach with my pupils:

When one of the brighter or harder-working pupils makes a grade of 95 on a test, I suggest that I take away 20 points and give them to a student who has made only 55 points on his test. Thus each would contribute according to his ability and — since both would have a passing mark — each would receive according to his need.

After I have juggled the grades of all the other pupils in this fashion, the result is usually a "common ownership" grade of between 75 and 80 — the minimum needed for passing, or for survival. Then I speculate with the pupils as to the probable results if I actually used the socialistic theory for grading papers.

First, the highly productive pupils — and they are always a minority in school as well as in life — would soon lose all incentive for producing. Why strive to make a high grade if part of it is taken from you by "authority" and given to someone else?

Second, the less productive pupils — a majority in school as elsewhere — would, for a time, be relieved of the necessity to study or to produce. This system would continue until the high producers had sunk — or had been driven down — to the level of the lower producers. At that point, in order for anyone to survive, the "authority" would have no alternative but to begin a system of compulsory labor and punishments against even the low producers.

Finally I return the discussion to the ideas of freedom and enterprise — the market economy — where each person has freedom of choice, and is responsible for his own decisions and welfare. Gratifyingly enough, most of my pupils then understand what I mean when I explain that socialism — even in a democracy — will eventually result in a living-death for all except the "authorities" and a few of their favorite lackeys.

Wool and Wheat

The price of wool on world markets has risen most dramatically during the past year. Raw wool in the grease in October 1949 was quoted at $1.01 a pound in New York. The same wool was recently quoted at $3.55 a pound.

While the housewife digs deeper to buy enough for hubby's socks, wool growers of Australia, New Zealand and South Africa are cashing in on these rising prices. They are probably today the richest farmers in the world. But the prices of prairie wheat have been and still are strictly controlled. Far from cashing in on the rise in prices that has taken place in the past five years our prairie wheat growers, as everybody now understands and believes have lost vast sums of money, to the extent that many in Alberta, having suffered a 1950 crop failure, are in serious financial straits.

Why in times of rising markets for all goods and commodities the world over should the prairie wheat growers be the only producers to be deprived of the opportunity of enjoying worldwide rising prices, as they are still deprived under the low maximum prices set by the International Wheat Agreement. Surely something is wrong. This merits the careful consideration of our Dominion Government representatives.

Dear Sir—Every time I read this Voice column people are belly-aching. It's always some man complaining about his wife or a wife knocking her husband or some boy hates his girl friend. But what happens when something kind and fine happens, like that fellow in your paper a little while ago who offered one of his eyes to a stranger who might see? Nothing happens! Not a word out of you grippers when someone does something nice.

Dear Sir—These troubled times could be made much better if people would only concentrate on the power of love instead of trying to destroy human life. If all men would love their wives truly and concentrate on making that love the main event of their lives, all the world's troubles would soon melt away, for a real lover has to have time for love.

CHOICE OF CHRIST

Dear Sir—A Voicer asks "how can I know which the 256 religions is right?" What is fundamentally right is not a matter of choice of the many so-called religions. Rather it is a choice of Christ, as the "one and only Saviour." All other choices are secondary.

OLDSTERS AT 43?

Dear Sir—What on earth do employers mean by saying that a man at the age of 43 is too old to work in a factory or other industry? It's hard to understand, yet that's what they think in some parts of Alberta. They prefer kids of 17 or 18 even to experienced, strong and healthy men in their forties. Is a man supposed to just bury his head in the ground at that age?

Dear Sir—A veteran asked in a recent Voice letter why we always seem to have wars under Liberal administrations. That's easy Whenever economy begins slipping under the Grits and prices begin to drop for the benefit of us poor peasants, they look around for a war to create an emergency. This keeps them in power and keeps prices up — two things which Liberals love. The only solution is to kick them all out.

Herman Linder, World's Top Rodeo Rider Made Debut as 'Cow Girl' at Age 14

LETHBRIDGE, Alta.—BUP—From "cowgirl" to the world's top rodeo rider is the story of Alberta's Herman Linder.

When he was 14, Linder wouldn't talk about his "cowgirl" experience on a bet. But today, at 43, he looks on the adventure with a mellow humor and recalls it as one of the most celebrated instances of his life.

"I was 14 years old," he said recently, "and to fulfill the advertising of a girl in skirts riding a bronc, they put skirts over my leather chaps."

"I was thrown right in front of the grandstand, and all I was anxious to do was to keep my face away from the crowd. A fellow who came to help me kept turning my face to the crowd, and I kept turning it away."

"Anyway, I must have looked like a girl, because there was quite an argument over letting a girl ride a bucking horse."

That was at Cardston, Alta., where Linder started riding bucking horses as a boy when he was 12, on the family's ranch. By the time he retired, at 32, he had won the top international honors of the rodeo world.

Alberta Doctors Plan Confab

Alberta division of the Canadian Medical Association and the medical faculty of the University of Alberta will gather in Edmonton, April 30-May 5 for their annual refresher course.

It is expected more than 250 doctors will be in attendance. Subjects on the agenda include surgical practice, obstetrics and gynaecology, and internal medicine.

Dr. J. W. Macgregor, chairman of the group's committee on education, will be in charge of the gathering.

He was North American all-round cowboy five times at the famous Calgary Stampede, and took the world's bucking title in New York. In between times, he rode at Tucson, Cheyenne, Denver, and every other city which featured big-time rodeos.

WON FIRST RODEO AT 16

He won his first rodeo at Cardston when he was 16, and the last, at Lewiston, Ida., when he was 32.

"I quit then," he said "because as in most sports, once a rodeo man hits 30, he's bound to start going down."

Linder's father, who turned handspins at 60, was his big inspiration.

"Dad and his sons were always like a bunch of kids together," Linder said. "Dad helped build the chute and would open the gate for us."

Today he runs the big Linder ranch with his brother, Warner, but he hasn't lost his interest in rodeos.

He is president of the Canadian Stampede Manager's Association and vice-president of the International Rodeo Association of America.

DRUNK DRIVERS are locked up and so are their cars. Police in Alberta are also keeping a close watch on speeders—55 were arrested on the Calgary-Edmonton highway near Red Deer last week. Here an officer locks a car to await tow truck while another constable escorts driver to police cruiser.

32,000 People Served By Rural Health Unit

People living in an area of 2,400 square miles, comprising a population of 32,000, are receiving medical service through the Edmonton Rural Health Unit.

Every month hundreds of families are visited, thousands of examinations and inspections are given, by a staff of 11 full-time workers.

Staff is headed by Dr. H. Siemens, medical officer of health.

Communities served include Beverly, Clover Bar, St. Albert, Morinville, Legal, Bon Accord, Egremont, Fort Saskatchewan, Gibbons, Devon, Nisku, Calmar, Leduc, and New Sarepta.

During 1950 the Service operated on a budget of $45,660, or an average of $1.20 per person. The budget was made up by $23,040 in provincial government grants, and $22,620 in local grants from municipalities.

Rubella was the most prevalent communicable disease treated in the area during 1950, followed by mumps and chicken pox. In all there were 934 cases of communicable disease.

There were five cases of polio, none of them highly serious.

Infant mortality was quite low, with 28 deaths out of 901 births.

There were over 1,300 children examined by the medical health officer during the year.

There were 196 deaths reported in the area during 1950.

Sanitation inspections were carried on throughout the area. Incidentally, there are 39 restaurants operating in the area, and only one was closed last year by the Health Service. It is now operating under new management.

Town of Morinville made the greatest progress in respect to garbage disposal. Gibbons, Devon and Morinville are said to be the only communities in the area where reasonable garbage conditions are being maintained.

There are three milk pasteurizing plants in the area, and 96 per cent of the milk sold in the area is pasteurized.

Health education was carried on throughout the area through public meetings, addresses before various clubs, showing of films, and other mediums.

TWO EASTERN Canadian pilots, participating in the Korean airlift, are seen watching preparations of a popular Japanese dish, Sukikayi, in one of Tokyo's largest restaurants. Both men are ex-pilots of the last war.

WHEN THREE CHICKS were put into the box with bear cubs Fritzzy and Mitzzy in Winnipeg, it wasn't the chicks who were frightened. The chicks showed no respect or fear for the cubs' claws and teeth and had the two bears cowering in a corner whining in dismay.

Bounties Offered On Wolves, Cougars, Birds

The provincial government will pay $10,000 to the Alberta Fish and Game Association toward the cost of bounty payments on birds classed as pests, it was stated Monday at the legislative building. Bounties for the bird pests, and for timber wolves and cougars also were announced.

Bounty payments for the feet of goshawks, horned owls and snowy owls will be 25 cents a pair. These bounties will only be paid for birds killed this month. Bounties to be paid for the feet of crows and magpies will be five cents a pair.

Residents of Alberta may collect $15 bounty for each cougar taken in the province, exclusive of national parks. Alberta residents also will be paid bounties of $15 for each timber wolf taken between April 1 and Sept. 30, and will be paid bounties of $12 for each timber wolf taken between Oct. 1 and March 31.

Applications for wolf and cougar bounties may be made through the R.C.M.P., justices of the peace, commissioners for oaths, or game and forestry officers. The ears of each pelt must be intact upon presentation. The ears then will be split from tip to base by the person receiving the bounty application, and the pelt will be returned to the applicant. Persons holding valid licenses to deal in animals pelts or furs shall be eligible to make application for timber wolf or cougar bounties.

The LIGHTER SIDE

What a Life!

Mother had her numerous offspring out shopping, and as they waited for a bus she began to tell them a story to keep the peace.

"One time I was in the middle of the jungle," she said warily, "and I looked up to see a tiger only a few feet away. I tried to run, but with a bound it was on me and I was struck down dead."

"But it couldn't have. You're still alive," protested several of the children.

A weary glance swept the family as mother closed her eyes and replied, "You call this living?"

Guarding Her Luck

Just outside the domestic science classroom, the pretty young student paused to pick up a rusty pin. Whereupon her teacher, who had been walking behind her, exclaimed:

"My goodness! You don't believe in such silly superstitions as that, do you?"

"I'm afraid I do," the girl replied. And then, glimpsing an expression of horror on her instructor's face, she added reassuringly:

"But you don't need to worry, Miss Wilson. I always sterilize them when I get home!"

Good Reason

"It says here that he was shot by his wife at very close range."
"Then there must have been powder marks on him."
"Yes — that's why she shot him."

Quite an Idea

"I'm all out of sorts. The doctor said the only way to cure my rheumatism was to keep away from all dampness."

"What's so tough about that?"
"You don't know how silly it makes me feel to sit in an empty bath and go over myself with a vacuum cleaner."

LETTER TO LOUISA

Wife Shouldn't Neglect Home in Favor of Clubs

DEAR LOUISA—I recently moved to a new town and I have done everything I know to meet the people and become a part of the community life.

I had no trouble in doing this as the people here are very friendly.

My only trouble now is that I am involved in too many things. In fact, I feel that I am neglecting my home and children to do a great many unnecessary things. I am called on to canvass for one organization, fix flowers for another, talk to another, get up refreshments for a S. S. picnic, correct papers for a contest, etc., etc.

I don't want these people to think I am a flash in the pan and run out when the work is to be done but I simply have to slow down. How can I cut out one without cutting out all?

NEWCOMER.

Answer:

Just explain your situation to your new friends and tell them that you will work with the P. T. A. this year and the Garden Club next or vice versa, but that you will be a divorced woman with juvenile delinquents on your hands if you keep on as you have started.

Probably, all the club work you are doing is worthwhile but a woman's first responsibility is her family and they should come first. You will have a great deal of time to do community work when your children are older and many women, at that time, fill the void left by their children leaving home, doing community work.

Remember too that most people have a tendency to work a "willing horse to death," so don't feel that you have to accept every assignment that is given you.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa—My little son will be in the second grade next year. He seems to me to have an amazing fund of general knowledge and I was much surprised when his teacher wrote on his report card that he was "slow to learn."

Do you think that she could be right?

MOTHER.

Answer:

Most of us think our children are brighter than they are but, on the other hand, teachers often make mistakes. One of the great Einstein's teachers rated him as "mentally slow" and "adrift, in foolish dreams" so I shouldn't let one teacher's opinion worry me.

Some children find it hard to learn to read — their eyes may be at fault — but are exceptionally smart in other ways. Perhaps his teacher did not make school interesting enough for him to exert himself.

LOUISA.

Many Have TB Without Knowing It

It has been found that many people have at some time in their lives suffered from tuberculosis without suspecting it. Their recovery was due to favorable circumstances or to otherwise good health, but those cases could so easily have developed into serious proportions. The only safeguard against tuberculosis striking and gaining a hold is to have regular chest X-rays, whereby the disease may be detected and treatment started in its earliest stages.

98% Suffering Dental Troubles

Dental disease is a problem that affects 98 per cent of our population. It includes children as young as three years of age. Regular visits to a dentist from early childhood might have saved a great deal of trouble and expense for most of the people who have lost teeth and suffered pain through prolonged dental neglect.

Census To Count 730,000 Farmers

Beginning on June 1 this year a census enumerator will visit each of the 730,000 farms in Canada to obtain answers to a series of questions about the farm. The last census of agriculture for all Canada was taken in 1941 and for the Prairie Provinces in 1946. Many farmers will therefore have had previous experience in answering questions on the agricultural schedule, but for some it will be the first experience.

Stop Grasshopper Damage

Grasshopper damage to crops has long been one of the most troublesome insect problems facing farmers in Western Canada. Reliable egg surveys completed last fall indicate that in spite of well organized grasshopper control programs in all three provinces during the past three years, another extensive campaign will be needed over a large part of Western Canada this spring.

Heavy Losses. A careful appraisal of recent Provincial campaigns reveals that for every dollar spent on control, about 25 dollars worth of crop was saved. Since grasshoppers have recently caused crop losses estimated at about 40 million dollars, any effort spent on control would appear to be an excellent investment.

Effective Control Possible. For an expenditure of less than 50 cents per acre for chemical (chlordane or aldrin), applied as soon as the young 'hoppers appear, any farmer can save his crop through his own efforts. Many continue to suffer losses because they do not begin control measures early enough.

Chemical control, however, is only one phase of a successful grasshopper campaign. The cultural program, including early tillage and trap stripping of fields to be summerfallowed, will still be the basis of any good control campaign. Failure to follow approved cultural practices has resulted in much unnecessary damage by the stubble grasshopper while allowing a rather serious increase in this dangerous species.

Individual Responsibility. The first responsibility of a farmer living in an infested area is to keep the grasshoppers on his own farm strictly under control. Be prepared. Order grasshopper fighting supplies early. Watch for young, newly-hatched 'hoppers and begin to fight them at once with tillage, bait or spray. Consult your local Agricultural Representative or municipal officials for further advice on how to stop grasshopper damage.

WHERE DOES THE MONEY GO ?

At times most of us have looked at purse, wallet or bank-book, and wondered: "Where does the money go?" You may have wondered, too, where does our money go—the money we receive for gasoline, fuel oil, lubricants and other products we sell. Well, last year each dollar we received went this way:

CRUDE OIL and the other raw materials we bought took half of each dollar.

OPERATING AND ADMINISTRATIVE expenses took more than 25 cents. This was the cost of searching for and producing crude oil, and of manufacturing and marketing the hundreds of products we supplied for thousands of uses. Throughout the year high quality products were made available where and when you needed them.

TRANSPORTATION of products from our refineries to marketing points took the next big bite of the dollar. Products moved over wide areas to serve every community in Canada.

TAXES to provincial and federal governments took 7.64 cents. And this did not include gasoline tax which—depending on where you live—took from 22 to 33 cents out of every dollar you spent for standard grade gasoline.

TO REPLACE worn out equipment and to make sure that we can supply your needs in the future took 3.59 cents.

DIVIDENDS paid to shareholders for use of plants and equipment amounted to 3.45 cents.
